A CANCER DIAGNOSIS CAN BRING A LOT TO NAVIGATE

For someone already living with diabetes, there may be additional considerations alongside appointments, treatment and recovery.

TREATMENT CAN AFFECT PEOPLE DIFFERENTLY

Some cancer treatments, including certain steroids used during treatment, can raise blood glucose levels. Your healthcare team can help you understand what to look out for and how to manage any changes.

YOU DESERVE JOINED-UP SUPPORT

Let your cancer care team know if you have diabetes, and ensure the professionals supporting your diabetes care are aware of your cancer treatment.
